

Fluency-as-a-Service

Cutting-edge voice AI with the ease of the cloud

What is FaaS?

FaaS builds on Fluent.ai's proven and patented Fluent AI Core voice engine to offer an end-to-end voice interface solution for any consumer device or cloud service application. Users can quickly customize, embed and manage multilingual voice recognition for their products or services, all through the ease of the Cloud.

Who should use FaaS?

FaaS is for development teams of any size, OEMs, system integrators, app developers and end users – anyone looking for a quick, reliable and robust voice interface across any language or accent for their products or services.

Why use FaaS?

- Speed: quick development of a voice interface for ANY language, accent or speech impairment
- Accuracy: near-perfect accuracy unmatched by conventional technologies, even in high-noise environments

- Customization: FaaS users can quickly and easily add any additional languages or dialects to their offering
- Flexibility: Fluent AI voice recognition technology can be used securely on the cloud or downloaded and used offline via the FaaS platform
- Real-time Updates: Ongoing tech updates in real-time through the cloud, ensuring that the user's voice interface is always leading-edge
- Value-added Services: FaaS offers users data collection capabilities, analytics, automated model building and performance tuning

Fluent.ai Inc's mission is that everyone should be understood by their technology. Fluent.ai offers a range of artificial intelligence (AI) voice interface software products to OEMs and service providers that delivers unprecedented accuracy along with a highly customizable user experience with the goal of finally breaking the barriers to high adoption of voice user interface.
